

SCHOOLS

Access-Shakespeare

Our touring production, and an exploratory session between students and actors.

Our 2012 touring production will be Romeo and Juliet. Join our professional actors as they bring this dynamic, fully-staged production to your school.

This 90-minute production is suitable for students in the sixth grade and beyond. After the play, join our cast of professional actors in a group "talkback" as the actors discuss the artistic process, themes and characters in the play.

We encourage students to voice their personal points of view and to ask questions about the play. Schools that participate will receive a comprehensive study guide to the play.

- When: March-April 2012
- Where: School auditorium or comparable space
- Length: Approximately 90-minute performance (no intermission); 20 minutes of discussion with the cast
- Grade Levels: Sixth grade to adult
- Cost: $1900/1 show, $3000/2 shows
- Recommended audience size: 500 students

Free Will

A five-day exploratory residency in the plays of Shakespeare.

Professional actors, directors and playwrights bring their artistic experience and skill into your classroom and immerse students in Shakespeare's plays for five days or more.

Our teaching artists help students develop a personal connection to the plays of Shakespeare. Through process and ensemble theater games that focus on language, body expression and character exploration, we offer each student the chance to interact with Shakespeare's text and themes on a daily basis.

- When: Year-round, subject to availability
- Where: School auditorium, classroom or comparable space
- Length: 45-minute sessions
- Grade Levels: Elementary through adult education programs
- Cost: $615/day with two teaching artists (a minimum of 5 days)
- Recommended workshop size: 30-40 students/workshop

EnAct!

Theater arts, demystified.

Professional actors, directors, playwrights and master teachers bring their talent and teaching expertise to the classroom. Our teaching artists guide students' exploration of the components that make up the study of theater arts.

EnAct offers teachers and students the chance to work directly with our teaching artists in a series of master classes, which include stage combat, text analysis, acting, directing, and playwriting.

- When: Year-round, subject to availability
- Where: School auditorium, classroom or comparable space
- Length: Varies on needs
- Grade Levels: Elementary through adult education programs
- Cost: minimum of $375/day with one teaching artist
- Recommended workshop size: 30 students/workshop with one teaching artist

Students on Stage

Explore and connect with Shakespeare's words in a one-day workshop.

Professional actors, directors and playwrights bring their artistic experience and skill into your classroom for a one-day Shakespeare workshop. Our teaching artists help students develop a personal connection to Shakespeare's language. Shared group theater games focus on the relationships and meaning that bring these texts to life.

Students on Stage gives each student the opportunity to interact with Shakespeare's words in an ensemble-driven atmosphere that takes the edge off of performance anxiety for students.

- When: Year-round, subject to availability
- Where: School auditorium, classroom or comparable space
- Length: 45-minute session
- Grade Levels Elementary through adult education programs
- Cost: $375-$635 (varies with number of workshops and teaching artists; extended travel expenses may apply)
- Recommended workshop size: 35 students per session
